

Pennsylvania summit brings energy investment announcements

Representatives across all levels of Pennsylvania government convened on July 15 at Carnegie Mellon University with investors and key leaders in the energy community at the behest of Sen. Dave McCormick (R., Pa.).

The event was also attended by high-profile members of the Trump administration, including Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Lee Zeldin, Energy Secretary Chris Wright, Secretary of the Interior Doug Burgum, and the president himself.

Under the banner of the inaugural Pennsylvania Energy and Innovation Summit, a bevy of new, groundbreaking energy investments were announced, the prominent headline of the day being a total investment in the state of more than $90 billion and the creation of tens of thousands of jobs.

Despite sharing the spotlight with hydro-power, solar, and natural gas, nuclear still enjoyed major announcements from Constellation Energy and Westinghouse Electric Company.

The president and government officials at the July 15 announcement in Pennsylvania. (Photo: EPA)

After highlighting the work that state leadership has done to facilitate the restart

Continued

Advance Safety. Build Culture. Ensure Excellence. Utilities Service Alliance – Nuclear Safety Culture Assessments

Strong safety culture isn't optional—it's foundational.

That's why Utilities Service Alliance, Inc. (USA Inc.) has developed an industry-leading process to meet and exceed the expectations of NEI 09-07 and INPO IER 02-0, trusted by both operating nuclear stations and supply chain partners.

Our comprehensive, peer-driven approach provides actionable insights and fosters meaningful improvement through collaboration—not compliance alone.

Why USA Inc.'s Safety Culture Assessment Stands Out:

- ✓ Confidential employee survey grounded in the 10 Traits of a Healthy Nuclear Safety Culture (INPO 12-012)
- ✓ Choice of 3-point or 5-point survey formats
- ✓ Stand-alone survey or full-scale assessment with peer-led interviews
- ✓ Conducted by a collegial team of internal and external peers
- ✓ Exit meeting + detailed written report delivered within 30 days
- ✓ Proven across both utilities and supply chain organizations

When safety culture thrives, performance follows. Trust the process designed by the industry, for the industry.

Get started today,
contact:

Alec McGalliard

Director of Fleet Improvements and Support

amcgalliard@usainc.org

361-403-4146

www.usainc.org