

The POWER of Our PLATFORM

For decades, our teams have tackled the industry's most complex demands with engineered solutions and customized equipment that protect people and the environment while optimizing performance. From radiological safety and modelling to chemistry programs and material selection, we ensure protection at every step.

Our approach combines engineering consultation, strategic asset management, advanced systems design, and comprehensive radiological protection to deliver reliable, efficient solutions. With the experience of Dominion Engineering, Inc. and RSCS, our platform leverages these capabilities to ensure safe, efficient, and responsible operations.
